NEW EMPLOYEE SPOTLIGHT

Wail Kailani

I graduated from RCTC with an associate degree in Computer Science and I am planning to finish my Bachelors degree in Computer Science from WSU this May. During the time I was an RCTC and WSU-Rochester student, I was working as a work study student and also completed a student internship at Goddard Library. In January 2006, I was hired as a full time Information Technology Specialist.

I like working with students, especially since I am still a student. I spend my free time reading/surfing for new information in the technology field, which is changing every day. My last non-technology book that I’ve started reading is the The Autobiography of Malcolm X: As Told to Alex Haley.

The faculty and staff of the Goddard Library are a well tied family and they are all very friendly, nice and understanding; hence I like working here very much.

NEW EMPLOYEE SPOTLIGHT

Gretchen Schroeder

I was recently hired as Goddard Library’s new Library Technician. But that doesn't make me a new face on campus. I’ve worked at UCR since the Fall of 2004, filling various temp positions for both RCTC and Winona State. I can only say positive things about the many wonderful people I’ve met and feel privileged to be an official member of the UCR team.

In my free time (ha!) I enjoy driving the back roads, shopping in small towns, gardening and taking pictures. As an avid amateur photographer, I’m always on the lookout for the next photo opportunity. Consequently, the books I most enjoy reading contain photography info and pictures.

Success is....not measured by what you are, but by who you are.
Featured Resource: Group Study Rooms

The small group study rooms (6 person max.) are available to current UCR students and staff for quiet group discussion and study. The rooms contain a table, a plasma screen, docking stations for laptops, DVD and VCR players and a dry erase board.

Four of the rooms are at the back of the Periodicals Room on the 2nd floor and three rooms are on the 3rd floor in the Library Technology Center.

Group study room reservations can be made in 2 hour time blocks on the library homepage (http://www.roch.edu/library) by following the reservation instructions on the Study Room link. Keys may be checked out at the library’s Circulation Desk.

How Do I?: Accessing Library Resources Remotely

All current UCR students, faculty and staff may access any of the library online resources remotely. You will need a UCR student/staff ID card which are available at the library’s circulation desk. You will use the barcode on the back of this card as a username when logging into the article databases.

Instructions for remote access are on the library homepage by clicking on the “Remote Access Information” link. This link leads to our proxy server instructions that explain how to configure your Internet web browser.
